

Brief Profile:

Tandin Jamtsho graduated from National Institute of Technology, Surathkal, Karnataka, India in Bachelor of Engineering in Electrical & Electronics, completed Master of Science in Electrical Engineering from the University of New Brunswick, Canada. Prior to joining at SAARC Energy Center, he worked in Druk Green Power Corporation Limited (DGPC) and major works undertaken are listed under:

1. As DGPC was formed in 2008 with the merger of all hydropower plants under one entity, he had contributed in the formulation of various strategies documents such as Corporate Strategy Plan, Human Resource Manual, and other documents.
2. After the formation of DGPC, he had developed Key Performance Indications (KPIs), which are comparable to the international KPIs of similar industry, mainly operation & maintenance of hydropower plants.
3. While in DGPC, he was involved in managing the risks of hydropower plants under operation & maintenance and under construction.
4. As DGPC is certified in ISO 9001:2015 (Quality Management System), ISO 14001:2015 (Environment Management System), and ISO 45001:2018 (Occupational Health & Safety Management System), he was responsible for effective implementation of the ISO standards.
5. As Bhutan is known for introducing the concept of Gross National Happiness (GNH), he was responsible in assessing and analyzing the GNH Business report of DGPC.

He is presently working as Research Fellow (Energy, Transport, and Environment) at the SAARC Energy Centre, Islamabad.